

Northwind Holdings - Quarterly Financial Report, Q3 FY2026

This report summarises Northwind Holdings' financial performance for the third fiscal quarter of FY2026 (July to September 2026), compared with the same quarter of the previous fiscal year. Revenue growth was driven by higher freight volumes and new long-term customer contracts. All figures are in US dollars and unaudited.

Key financial results

Metric	Q3 FY2026	Q3 FY2025	Change
Revenue	$48.2M	$42.3M	+14%
Net profit	$6.1M	$5.0M	+22%
Operating cash flow	$9.4M	$7.8M	+21%
Total debt	$72.0M	$80.5M	-11%

Net profit margin improved to 12.7% from 11.8%. The balance sheet strengthened as the company repaid $8.5M of long-term debt during the quarter.

Risk factors

Interest rate risk: $40M of the company's debt is a variable-rate credit facility. A rise of 100 basis points in interest rates would increase annual interest expense by approximately $0.4M. This is currently the company's largest financial risk.

Currency risk: 18% of revenue is earned in euros, so a weaker euro would reduce reported revenue.

Customer concentration: the three largest customers account for 31% of revenue.

Dividend and audit

The board declared a quarterly dividend of $0.21 per share, payable on 14 November 2026 to shareholders of record on 31 October 2026. The external audit of the prior fiscal year identified no material weaknesses in internal controls over financial reporting.
